DETAILED ACTION

Applicants' election of Group 1, claims 1-3, in the reply filed on June 29, 2007 is acknowledged. Because applicant did not distinctly and specifically point out the supposed errors in the restriction requirement, the election has been treated as an election without traverse (MPEP § 818.03(a)).

Receipt is acknowledged of papers submitted under 35 U.S.C. 119(a)-(d), which papers have been placed of record in the file.

The specification has not been checked to the extent necessary to determine the presence of all possible minor errors, e.g., typographical, grammar, idiomatic, syntax and etc. Applicants' cooperations are requested in correcting any errors of which applicants may become aware in the specification.

The following is a quotation of the second paragraph of 35 U.S.C. 112:

The specification shall conclude with one or more claims particularly pointing out and distinctly claiming the subject matter which the applicant regards as his invention.

Claims 1-3 are rejected under 35 U.S.C. 112, second paragraph, as being indefinite for failing to particularly point out and distinctly claim the subject matter which applicant regards as the invention.

a). Claim 1 is incomplete for omitting essential structural cooperative relationships of elements, such as the tie-in between e.g., the reflux unit and the separator (the overhead vapor taken as referring to vapor discharged from the top of the distillation column) such omission amounting to a gap between the necessary structural connections. See MPEP § 2172.01.

Art Unit: 1764

b). It is unclear what constitute the "nonaqueous substances" within the context of the claimed invention as they are not specified in the claims.

The following is a quotation of 35 U.S.C. 103(a) which forms the basis for all obviousness rejections set forth in this Office action:

(a) A patent may not be obtained though the invention is not identically disclosed or described as set forth in section 102 of this title, if the differences between the subject matter sought to be patented and the prior art are such that the subject matter as a whole would have been obvious at the time the invention was made to a person having ordinary skill in the art to which said subject matter pertains. Patentability shall not be negated by the manner in which the invention was made.

Claims 1-3 are rejected under 35 U.S.C. 103(a) as being unpatentable over Friesen et al (5,611,842) and JP 01 155928 or JP 60 202705.

Friesen renders obvious the "... separation system comprising: a distillation column into which a mixture of a first component mainly comprising water and a second component mainly comprising nonaqueous substances is supplied; a separator including a separation membrane for separating overhead vapor discharged from a top of said distillation column into a permeable vapor which mainly comprises said first component and a nonpermeable vapor which mainly comprises said second component by allowing only a selected portion of said overhead vapor to permeate said separation membrane; and a reflux unit for cooling a portion of said overhead vapor into a liquid and returning the liquid thus obtained into an upper portion of said distillation column..." as broadly claimed in claim 1. See Fig. 13 and col. 4, lines 59-67 through col. 5, lines 1-35. See Figs. 10-12 for the "first separator" and "second separator" as further claimed in claim 3. See also Figs. 1 and 3 of JP '928; and Figs. 2 and 3 of JP '705 basically disclosing similar process as above. JP '928 further shows the used of fluidized bed distillation system as claimed in claim 2.

The prior art made of record and not relied upon is considered pertinent to applicant's disclosure.

Lumgair, Jr. et al discloses used of fluidized bed distillation system.
